British Gas Central Heating Timer Check that your timer settings are correct. If you've had a recent power outage - or even if you've brushed against the control panel - your timer settings might have been accidentally changed. Double check this and adjust them if you need to. Then set the heating to come on in 15 minutes' time, to make sure it's registering properly. What to do if your central heating stops working - British Gas The UP2 is a rebadged Drayton LP822, which means that it can operate in 1, 5/2 or 7 day modes, set with a jumper on the back. So if yours is set to 1 day (like mine was) then you can get loads more flexibility by changing that jumper. Background. My central heating was installed with a Potterton EP2002 timer, but when that failed it was replaced with a British Gas UP2 (under the maintenance policy that I've had since moving into my house).
